Noteworthy Books for Children Published During 2007

www.CapitolChoices.org

Criteria

Our mission is to identify each year's best books and introduce them to children and young people. We consider books and audiobooks published in the current calendar year for readers through age 16. We look not only for those books and audiobooks that are obviously remarkable but also for those whose charm, art, information, or depth of feeling may enhance a young person's world. We especially look for books that may not find an audience without some special attention.

What does Capitol Choices mean by "the best"? "Best" of the year? "Best" by this author? "Best" of its type? Our discussions become quite heated at times, but in the end, the titles we choose meet all of these criteria. For this reason, we include titles that we believe have child or teen appeal in addition to the qualities that mark good books: clarity, accuracy, credibility, and, that most elusive quality of all, distinguished writing and illustration.

Who We Are

The first edition of Capitol Choices was built on the work of Margaret Coughlan at the Children's Literature Center of the Library of Congress, who for many years edited an annual list entitled "Books for Children." Many of the members of the Capitol Choices group also worked on the earlier list, and we thank them and the Library of Congress for providing us with the opportunity to hone our critical skills during those years. The wise counsel of Maria Salvadore, formerly of the District of Columbia Public Library, also helped us as we clarified the goals of this new group.

Capitol Choices now includes librarians, teachers, booksellers, children's literature specialists, and magazine editors who work in cities, in suburbs, and in rural areas in and around Washington, D.C. Most of us work directly with young people, and all of us share a passion for books and a commitment to pairing children with books.

CLEMENTINE

Recorded Books
CD: 9781428145894; $30.75

Okay fine, I love Clementine, which means I may not be totally the best unbiased person to talk about this audio which is a big adult way of saying "don't take my word for it." Anyway, Jessica Almasy has the P-E-R-F-E-C-T perfect voice and you will think so too, because it's pretty spectacularful, especially the ceiling snakes.
